

University of Glasgow | School of Critical Studies

MSc in Values-based Practice: Faith Communities

MSc in Values-based Practice: Faith Communities

This unique and innovative programme offers opportunities to focus upon key issues in your own work within a faith community. There will be the opportunity to focus upon specific aspects of ministry, pastoral care, mission and social engagement.

The programme will be of interest to: those working in faith communities or the faith-based voluntary sector. It will also be of value to those anticipating work in these fields who wish to develop core skills or prepare to undertake doctoral research.

Key features include:

- Twilight teaching - one evening per week for core and many optional modules
- Part time study options
- Access to the wide resources of a research-led University
- Opportunity to focus on the topics that matter most to you
- Advanced engagement with the methodological approaches of reflective practice and theological reflection
- Skill development in evaluative strategies relevant to faith communities, voluntary organisations and civil society
- Study within a supportive and highly participatory environment where you will interact with people from a range of specialisms in the public and voluntary sector.

Please refer to our website for further details:

www.gla.ac.uk/postgraduate/taught/values-basedpracticefaithcommunities/a

Or contact: Rev Doug Gay at critstudies-pgenquiries@glasgow.ac.uk